CIGAR SHAPED AIRSHIP

Sailed Around Over New York and Brooklyn.

A big cigar-shaped airship sailed across the bay from Staten Island Wednesday, circled around above the high office buildings in Brooklyn, then swept across East river and alighted gently in the midst of a crowd numbering thousands which had gathered in Battery Park. A few moments later the operator set the machinery in motion again and the ship rose to an altitude of about 500 feet, and started northward over the skyscrapers of Manhattan Island. The ship was in charge of Lincoln Beachy, who seemed to have perfect control of the big machine.

Bath County Man Will Remove to Lexington.

Ed. I. Boyd, of Sharpsburg, closed a deal for a house and lot on Walton avenue and will remove to Lexington during July. Mr. Boyd comes to Lexington to enter wholesale coal business. He will handle the produce of several Eastern Kentucky mines.

For Lincoln Farm.

Mrs. Russell Sage, of New York, has sent to the Lincoln Farm Association a contribution of $25,000 to the fund for the preservation of the Abraham Lincoln farm and log cabin and for the memorial building that will be put up on the farm eventually. She has intimated her willingness to give more should it be necessary.

Consumption of Paper.

The Revue Scientifique places the United States in the front rank as the greatest paper producing country of the world, with an annual output of 639,734 tons. Germany follows with 393,683 tons, England 246,051, France 196,942, Austria 147,706 and Italy 123,026. The United States leads with 38.6 pounds per capita, England 34.3, Germany 29.98, France 20.5, Austria 19, Italy 15.4, Serbia showing the lowest European figure, 1.1, India shows only .22 and China 1.1 per capita.

Nearly half of the paper manufactured in the world is used for printing purposes.

"SUNDAY CLOSING LAW

MUST BE ENFORCED HERE."

Mayor Thomas A. Combs is Emphatic in His Statement.

(Lexington Herald.)

In spite of the efforts of the police and the detective forces, there has been some violations of that law, but in almost every instance the violators have been caught.

Mayor Combs, however, has determined upon another plan which he is certain will bring about the desired result and the lid will be tightened in this city in such a way as never before. Mayor Combs has decided to call upon Judge Bullock to assist him in enforcing the Sunday closing laws and will ask Judge Bullock to revoke the county and State license of any saloonkeeper caught selling liquor on Sunday.

THINKS JUDGE WILL ACT.

Mayor Combs is positive that Judge Bullock will act with him with the enforcement of this law, and the conviction of a saloonkeeper of selling liquor here on Sunday in the future will mean an outlay of $500 if he wishes to continue in the saloon business. Everything has been done that could be done to enforce the Sunday closing law except the Mayor and the County Judge acting in conjunction in revoking the license granted by the City, County and State to conduct a saloon.

There was published in the Leader a letter purporting to be a communication to Mayor Combs. This letter, however, was not sent to the Mayor, but to the Leader.

The letter follows:

Lexington, Ky., June 23, 1907. To Hon. Thos. Combs, Mayor City of Lexington:

My Dear Sir:—I have noticed the statement time and again that you are enforcing the Sunday law in Lexington, and that you have screwed the lid on good and tight. Now, my dear Mr. Mayor, I desire to inform you through the columns of the Leader that if you think you have got the lid on, you are very sadly mistaken. I came down to Lexington, Saturday, June 22, and when midnight came I found it easy to get all the liquor I wanted.

Sunday morning I met one of your policemen at the C. & O. depot and I remarked to him: "What is the chance to get a drink?" and he very frankly told me how and where to get that drink. I not only got one drink, but, had I wished to, I could have obtained bottles and bottles of both beer and whisky.

I hereby claim that the "Sunday lid law" is a fraud and a delusion to deceive the people.

Very truly yours,

HENRY S. BARNETT,

Foreman Breathitt County News, Jackson, Ky., June 23, 1907.

In answer to this letter Mayor Combs states his position once more on the Sunday closing laws and his efforts to see that the saloons in this city are closed on Sunday. His letter follows:

MAYOR'S REPLY.

June 24, 1907.

Henry S. Barnett, Esq., Foreman Breathitt County News, Jackson, Ky.:

Dear Sir:—I have just read in the Lexington Leader what purports to be a communication addressed to me, wherein you make the statement that you purchased drinks in this city yesterday (Sunday), having been directed by a policeman to an open saloon. If you will furnish me the name of the policeman who furnished you this information I will promptly suspend him from duty, and will file charges against him before the Board of Police and Fire Commissioners (of which I am chairman) and will guarantee his prompt dismissal from the force if the facts be found as charged in your letter. If you will be good enough to furnish me with a list of the names of the saloons you charge were open after midnight Saturday, as well as a list of those that you claim were open on Sunday, I will notify the proprietors to appear before me at a time that may suit your convenience to appear against them, and if the facts warrant I shall very promptly revoke the licenses of all those who may be found guilty, as I have always done in every case that has been before me since I have been authorized by law to conduct such hearings.

The City of Lexington will pay the legitimate expenses of your trip from Jackson to Lexington

CORRESPONDENCE.

DONALDSON, CLARK COUNTY.

The new Union Church has been completed.

Kissing parties are about to take the day down here.

There are several fine young colts in this neighborhood. B. T. Carl has 3. Two of them are twin mules.

Mrs. Clara Pendleton has a very successful Sunday School here.

The items, of which the above are a part, were received last week after our paper had gone to press. We cut out most of them, as they were not suitable for so late a date; moreover we do not care to tell the names of boys and girls who are evidently sweethearts. They might be the ones who are doing so much of that kissing. Yum, yum!

Worked Wonders.

Mrs. C. P. Wiggins, Lexington, Ky., says: "I gave my fowls Bourbon Poultry Cure when they were sick and it certainly worked wonders." Sold and guaranteed by W. S. Lloyd, Mt. Sterling, Ky.
